

A cemented carbide punch is a part of a cemented carbide mold, also called a hard alloy punch or a carbide punch.

It is mainly used for punching hardware parts or electronic parts. Of course, it can also punch other non-metal parts. Pieces, even belt holes, plastic holes, etc.

